FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Stock, the 26th May 1925.

No. F 11-C S.H. (25).—In the Government of India, Finance Department, Resolution No. 325-C.S.H., dated the 24th February 1924, it was stated that the decision therein was applicable only to those in which the disability arising out of the levying was due to service in the period of the great War. This was due to the fact that at that time the Post-war Warrant (continuing the previous system) had not been applied to the Indian services. This has now been done, and with the approval of the Secretary of State in Charge, the Government-General in Council is now pleased to announce that the decision is also applicable to Indian cases.

No. 117.—Under rule 20 (3) of the rules regarding the General Provident Fund, an amount of Rs. 1000 representing interest and equivalent to 4 per cent or 8 per cent of the advance depending on the advance is to be paid to the holder of the advance in the month following that in which the last installment of the advance is paid by him. It has been brought to the notice of the Government of India that in some cases the amount of interest is too heavy to be comfortably paid in one installment. They have therefore decided that where the outstanding advances are such that the interest of interest in one installment will cause inconvenience to the holder, the Government of India shall allow the holder to pay the interest in two installments, the first one with each installment being not less than the monthly installment by which the principal was being repaid.

(Reference—Indian Income-tax Act, XI of 1922.—Reference to the United Kingdom.—Reference by the High Commissioner for India—General Board of Revenue Resolution No. 1152, dated 29th April 1923.)

C. No. 155-I.T./23.—In the resolution quoted above, it was directed that applications for refunds under section 14 of the Indian Income-tax Act by persons permanently residing in the United Kingdom should be entertained and disposed of by the High Commissioner for India in London. These persons have of course no legal liability. They merely satisfy an executive order made for the convenience of accounts pending in the United Kingdom and are designed to relieve the Department in India of a considerable amount of work. If, therefore, a resident in the United Kingdom prefers a claim in accordance with rule 26 to the proper Income-tax Officer in India, such Income-tax Officer is legally bound to entertain and dispose of it, but he should at once report full particulars of the case, with all the relevant details, accounts and documents, to the Commissioner of Income-tax who should pass the information on, without delay, to the Central Board of Revenue in order that the Board may inform the High Commissioner and thereby obtain the possibility of a double refund.

Chief Secretary to Government.

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

No. 124.—The Collectors' Conference was held at the Secretariat Buildings, Simsbach Hill, from the 25th of May 1928 till the 1st June 1928. The following were the most important subjects discussed:—

In view of the introduction of the Village Officers' Institutions Bill various schemes for keeping the land not involved by the restoration within the limits of the current budget were considered.

The question of the reduction of work at revenue and settlement with a view to increasing the staff was carefully considered. Several suggestions were made in that regard.

Owing to the fact that the end of the financial year comes in the middle of the period which is most suitable for assessing works there is always difficulty in arranging for the early commencement of construction operations under the Public Works, Charitable and Minor Irrigation. A serious attempt of difficulty also occurs in the matter of loan facilities. Discussion on this subject was directed to discovering how best to secure that the work would be taken up at the earliest possible date.

A whole morning was given to the Livingston Hall. A number of the journals were examined carefully to see what administrative difficulties would arise in the working of the Act and how these could be met.

The subject of jamaatandi and its real objects is one which always arouses interest. It was again taken up with a view to discovering what were the most important aspects of it and how these could be secured by the minimum of effort and inconvenience.

Going to large demands for land from different classes during the protest years the problem of assignment to dispossessed classes and to ex-army men has become very difficult. The interests of these holding land especially those holding it on emergency after conditions with the interests of new applicants. These aspects of the problem were examined with a view if possible to safeguarding the proper interests of both the parties.

The question of improvements on ordinary taxis which are not monopolized by local boards is one which is essentially a meeting problem. On the one hand the local fare staff is inadequate to protect these trunks efficiently; on the other hand the trunks have been transferred from the control of the Revenue staff. Hence there is danger that the interests of the public may be neglected. Collected solutions were invited on this problem.

Since the introduction of the instrumental, scale of pay complaints have made that it is not possible under the system adequately to recognize good work. Some have expressed the view that the system encouraged mediocrity or even inefficiency. The Government desired to know what the experience of the districts had been in this respect.

The subject of floods occupied a considerable portion of the morning. Government desired to know how far the present system of flood warning and flood ponds was adequate and how far the present executive orders provided adequately for co-operation between the Bureau and Public Works Departments in dealing with emergencies. The events of last year afforded the basis for a discussion.

Finally the subject of the registration of vital statistics was taken up with a view to improving both the original registration and the compilation of figures regarding births and deaths.
